Website	www.cell-logic.com.au
Brief Company Profile	Cell-Logic is a science-based Australian company specialising in nutrigenomics, nutraceuticals and functional foods; we supply both finished products oral supplements and our flagship raw material ingredient, EnduraCell, our 100% sulforaphane-rich whole broccoli sprout. Our primary endeavour is on identifying and evaluating food-derived ingredients with significant clinical potential, thereafter, translating the relevant science to non-pharmaceutical therapeutic supplements. The company is also focused on delivering educational programmes for nutrition-focused clinicians. Our point of difference in the supplement market is our emphasis on food-derived ingredients for which clinical trial data support the nutrigenomic activity of the specific bioactives.
Product Categories of Interest	Evidence-based phytochemical ingredients supported by knowledge of the mechanism of the bioactive(s) and ideally peer-reviewed clinical trial data to support claims relevant to human health.
